

Research Report: who is president of fifa?

# Research Report

## Introduction

Gianni Infantino is the incumbent President of FIFA, having first assumed the role in 2016 and securing re-election for a fourth term covering 2023■2027. His leadership has been marked by significant governance reforms and strategic expansions of FIFA's flagship competitions.

## Key Findings

- Infantino was re■elected unopposed in March 2023, confirming his tenure through 2027.
- His background includes serving as UEFA General Secretary (2009■2016) and a career in football administration.
- Under his presidency, FIFA introduced reforms to the transfer system and expanded the World Cup format, including increasing the number of participating teams.

## Conclusion

Gianni Infantino remains the current FIFA President, guiding the organization through a period of structural change and global growth, with his current term set to conclude in 2027.

## Sources